We are pleased to invite you to ARC Landing Boston's Founder Spotlight event. Please see the invitation below, which includes an embedded registration link for your convenience. (Note: RSVP required for entry)

In March, six pioneering healthcare startups arrived in Boston to begin their US market-entry journey with us. As the inaugural cohort approaches the conclusion of its program, join us for an evening that goes beyond the traditional startup pitch. Through engaging, story-driven talks, founders will share the human experience behind their innovations—the patient stories, pivotal moments, and personal motivations that inspire their work. More than a showcase of innovation, these stories offer a unique glimpse into the people and purpose driving the future of healthcare.

We are honored to welcome Prof. Eyal Zimlichman, along with other distinguished leaders, to join us for this special occasion. We look forward to bringing together healthcare leaders, investors, innovators, and ecosystem partners to celebrate the cohort's accomplishments and the growing impact of ARC Landing Boston.

Please note that attendance is by invitation only and is non-transferable.

We hope you can join us!

Hi Jeevan,

Hope you're doing well. The email below came across my desk, and I thought you might be able to help with this.

There's an Israeli healthcare AI company called Droxi (Series A) that's set up recently its US HQ in Boston and is hiring across Massachusetts as it grows. I know the company and the founders well. It's exactly the kind of Israeli investment and job creation we want landing here.

Their VP of Product needs to relocate to Boston to lead the US expansion, but her E-1 treaty trader visa is stuck in a long processing queue. A few months' delay would really slow down their hiring and build-out here.

Is there anything MOITI could do to help move the process along? Happy to share more details if needed.

Thanks,
Hagay

Subject: Urgent: expediting E-1 visa tied to Israeli investment and Massachusetts hiring

Dear Hagay,

I am reaching out to ask for your help on a matter that is both urgent and directly tied to a meaningful expansion of Israeli investment and job creation in the United States.

I am the CEO and Co-Founder of Droxi, an Israeli healthcare AI company. Over the past year we have grown quickly, established our US headquarters in Boston, and begun hiring across Massachusetts. We are now in the process of adding tens of new roles in the state over the coming months as we scale, which positions Droxi to become a substantial Israeli employer and trade presence in the US market.

Roni Agami Leibowitz, our VP of Product, is essential to this expansion. She needs to relocate to Boston to lead the strategic projects that drive our US growth, and her presence on the ground is precisely what unlocks the hiring and investment we are committing to in Massachusetts. Her relocation is not a routine transfer: it is the keystone of an Israeli company building real economic activity and American jobs.

Roni filed her E-1 treaty trader visa application before the war with Iran, and it was received for processing on April 16th. The estimated processing time we have been given is over five months. A delay of that length would materially slow our US build-out and the job creation tied to it, and it would place Roni and her family, including four young children who are due to begin the school year in Boston, in a very difficult position.

I would be deeply grateful if you could bring this to the attention of the US Embassy in Israel and support a request to expedite. The E-1 program exists precisely to facilitate trade and investment between our two countries, so expediting Roni's appointment, ideally within the next one to two weeks, would directly serve that purpose by accelerating Israeli-backed growth and employment in the US.

I am happy to provide any supporting documentation the Embassy may find useful, including our Massachusetts hiring plan, details of our US operations, and our treaty trade activity. Thank you for your time and your help.

Best,
Gadi Shenhar

Good afternoon,

I am writing to let you know that the Israeli medical and university delegation planning to visit Kendall Square August 4-6, is considering changing the date to November 17-19. I expect to know definitively when they are coming by the end of day on June 1.

For now, if possible, please keep the August date I sent you in your calendar in pencil and pencil in the November date (the schedule will remain the same, so note the same day of the week as in August).

Apologies for the inconvenience. Hosting delegations like this is important to promote Kendall Square, build connections, and increase investment in our ecosystem. Thank you for your patience and understanding.

I will update you as soon as possible.

Dear Jeevan,

I hope you're doing well!

I am reaching out to personally invite you to an upcoming event I'll be hosting on Tuesday, June 9th – "A Conversation with Dr. Jacob Haviv," the CEO and Director General of Herzog Medical Center in Jerusalem.

Dr. Haviv will be discussing "Mental Health, Trauma Care, and Medical Resilience in Times of Crisis." For context, Herzog Medical Center is one of Israel's leading institutions specialized in mental health, psychotrauma, rehabilitation, and complex medical care. Under Dr. Haviv's leadership—which draws on over three decades of military and civilian healthcare experience—the center has played a pivotal national role in Israel's emergency medical response, including rapidly deploying a sheltered underground hospital during the current war.

He will be sharing firsthand insights into treating trauma and PTSD, supporting long-term psychological resilience, and introducing innovative models of care born out of crisis. Given how critical mental health and resilience are right now, I know this will be an incredibly powerful and illuminating discussion.

If you are able to join me, please let us know as soon as possible, via the RSVP link in the invitation so we can ensure you are added to the guest list, or you can inquire directly at cg-assistant@boston.mfa.gov.il.

I really hope you can make it!

Hi Jeevan,

Great connecting with you today. Attached is a preliminary list of members of the delegation from the National Defense College that will be visiting Boston in June.

Thanks again for making the time and kindly hosting the delegation.

Respectfully,

Hi Jeevan,

Great speaking with you earlier. I just wanted to follow up to confirm your availability to host the delegation from Israel's National Security College (MBL) on Tuesday, June 2 from 10:30-11:30 am at your office.

As we discussed, I'll share the names of attendees once we have them confirmed. I also wanted to note that the delegation will include non-Israeli participants.

Thank you so much! We really appreciate your willingness to make this happen.

Hi Jeevan, good morning

I hope this email finds you well.

I wanted to share that I've recently had many conversations with Israeli institutions and companies in the following fields:

1. Quantum computing
2. Mental Health-tech (primarily around Israel experience in PTSD)
3. Climate-tech

I'm currently looking to connect with government officials to share information about these companies and explore potential collaboration opportunities.

I wanted to kindly ask whether you can connect me with the relevant people in the following organization:

1. For quantum computing – Mass Technology Collaborative
2. For climate-tech – Mass Clean Energy Center
3. Mental Health – I'm planning to reach out to Kelly Benson from MeHI (is there any other organization that might be relevant?)

Thank you so much,

CAUTION: This email originated from a sender outside of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts mail system. Do not click on links or open attachments unless you recognize the sender and know the content is safe.

Ben, Liz, Jeevan, and Alexandra,

This August, we have an Israeli delegation from HealthTech Valley (HTV), a future-oriented innovation district east of Tel Aviv in Ramat Gan, Israel, anchored by Sheba Medical Center and Bar Ilan University, visiting Kendall Square.

The delegation is interested in collaborating with members of our ecosystem and learning from us as they continue to build their health-focused innovation ecosystem. We expect about 10-18 leaders, including: Avi Baruch, Deputy General Director for Management & HR and Director General of HTV Development at Sheba Medical Center; Senior leadership, Sheba Medical Center; Zohar Yinon, CEO, Bar Ilan University; Carmel Shamah HaCohen, Mayor of Ramat Gan and staff; plus leading Israeli real estate developers, entrepreneurs, ecosystem advisors, and national innovation leaders.

The delegation is eager to understand the economic and policy incentives that supported the development of the Kendall Square ecosystem, and the role the Commonwealth and related organizations have played in its development. Specifically, they want to learn more about:

- Which incentives (zoning, funding, visa programs, anchor tenants, etc.) are most effective?
- Who provides them, and to whom?
- How do these incentives impact location decisions and long-term retention?

Are you available to meet with the delegation on Wednesday, August 5 from 9:30 - 10:30 am?

Jeevan referred this delegation to us, and the visit is being coordinated with Rachel Marom, who has done coursework at MIT. Rachel proudly shared that Sheba Medical Center is ranked #7 among the world's leading hospitals by Statista. HTV aspires to co-locate world-class clinical care, cutting-edge research, start-ups, global industry, and vibrant urban life within an urban mixed-use environment, where employment, residential, and public spaces converge to accelerate health innovation. The area is currently undergoing intensive development, primarily residential, while surrounding lands designated for employment are currently pre-construction. HTV's goals are to learn what drives real-world decisions to establish a physical presence in an emerging district, and to build connections in Kendall Square.

Please let me know if you are interested and available to meet with this delegation. If not, can you recommend a colleague? This visit is an opportunity to connect with one another, promote Massachusetts (and Kendall Square), and make connections with this emerging Israeli innovation ecosystem.

Thank you.

Best,

Beth

Hi Eric and Jeevan,

I'm reaching out to introduce you to Gil Zimmerman and Ron Zalkind, the founders of Lama (lama.vc).

I've had the pleasure of connecting with Gil and Ron recently, and I've been very impressed with their perspective on the venture landscape. They are doing some great work at Lama, and given your roles leading the Commonwealth's economic development and international trade efforts, I thought it was essential to get you all in the same room.

The goal here is to start a conversation on how we can work together to further enhance Boston's attractiveness for international business and tech investment. Gil and Ron have some interesting insights on how we can continue to make our ecosystem the top choice for growing companies.

I'll leave it to you all to find a time to connect and dive into the details. Would be more than happy to host a meeting.

I'm confident this will be a very productive discussion for all of us.

Best,
Benny

Hi Ellie and Molly!

I just wanted to close the loop and make sure you were aware of the new opening ceremony date of April 15 – which I believe you are since we coordinated on the Governor’s availability

We have it set for doors to open at 230p, and ROS/remarks starting at 3pm.

Please let us know if you haven’t yet received the direct invite; we understand from others that it’s been going to spam folder or blocked entirely when it was sent out (via Luma).

Best
Yonatan

Jeevan--

My apologies for the delay in getting this over to you. As promised, below is the run of show as it currently stands. I believe it was mentioned on today's call that Prof. Kreiss may be moved to the end but we can update you once we have a final run of show.

Please let us know if this looks good to you.

Please see below for an important update from our CEO:

To Our Distinguished Guests,

I hope this message finds you safe and well.

It is with thoughtful consideration that I write to share an update regarding the ARC Landing Boston Ribbon Cutting and Opening Ceremony, originally scheduled for this Tuesday, March 3rd, which we had planned to hold in conjunction with Governor Healey, Secretary Paley, Secretary Mahania, Treasurer Goldberg, other government leaders, and senior leadership from surrounding medical centers and healthcare organizations.

Due to recent developments in the Middle East, we have made the difficult decision to postpone this much awaited event. While we were very much looking forward to welcoming you to Boston and celebrating this important milestone together, we feel it is most appropriate to pause at this time while our local and global leaders are currently focused on unfolding events.

We sincerely hope for everyone's safety, strength, and well-being during this time. Our thoughts are with all those affected, including members of our extended community, colleagues, and loved ones. We also recognize that some of you are traveling from abroad and appreciate the disruption this may cause to your plans. Please let us know if we can be helpful in any way, and of course you are always welcome to be hosted at our office if you have already arrived in Boston.

The first cohort of startups, slated to start this week, will start the program as planned, and we have a full range of activities set up for them locally as they start their journey in Massachusetts. We know many of you will be involved with the program, and we look forward to working together to turn this into an effective and successful program, for both the companies, as well as for the Commonwealth.

We are postponing the opening ceremony and will share the new date and time for the event soon.

Thank you for your understanding, your partnership, and your continued support.

With sincere appreciation,

Hi Jeevan: Thank you for the kind introduction. Our worlds are small - I actually met Thaminda at the Affin-T BBQ a couple of summers ago; my wife, Masha, and Thaminda were working together there!

Thaminda, it is great to reconnect. Michelle, very nice to meet you as well.

We'd love to set up a time to connect. I'm cc'ing our COO, Dolev Melamed, and we'd be happy to host you at our new office at 60 State Street, if convenient. It would be great to find a time in April.

I'll also send along an invitation today to our opening ceremony with Governor Healey and Sec Paley, which will take place on April 15th at 2:30 PM.

Best,
Yonatan

Hi Dolev ---

A couple of thoughts:

1. Here's a Guide on How to Start a Business in Massachusetts: <https://www.mass.gov/info-details/starting-a-business-in-massachusetts>
2. A law firm or accounting firm would be more helpful in explaining where to incorporate, for example, IP and bankruptcy laws in Delaware seem to be well-suited, however, in order to receive Massachusetts state funds, an entity (e.g., a subsidiary of a Delaware Corp) would need to be established in the state.
3. Let me think about some groups that could be helpful here and revert.

Best,

Jeevan,

Hope you're doing well!

We are working on putting together an information session for our startups specifically on the topic of forming a Massachusetts entity (the implications of incorporating in Delaware and then registering as a Massachusetts entity, as opposed to registering in a different state, etc.).

We were thinking of inviting a law firm to give this talk and maybe they can sponsor it as a "lunch and learn", but before we move forward, I wanted to check with you if this is something you or someone from your team would attend, and/or maybe you know someone in particular that would be best suited to speak on this subject.

Thank you in advance!

Hi Jeevan,

I hope you're doing well.

I wanted to ask if you might be able to connect me with someone at MassHealth. We're supporting an Israeli company that's looking to better understand the system and speak with patients or physicians involved in Medicaid or Medicare.

Any guidance or introduction would be greatly appreciated.

I feel bad and wish I had noticed the email in my outbox sooner (don't know why it wouldn't just auto-send later assuming it was a connectivity issue at the time I first sent it, but hey, IT is not my specialty). Glad you guys will have a chance to connect again in person – this will be BIIG!

John, Tali – perhaps a meeting or lunch in early April could work?

Hi Jeevan,

I just realized that I had sent this email a few weeks ago, but it appears it never actually went out.

This may be less necessary now since you were at the BIIG opening this past week, but I still wanted to make sure you and John Hawthorne are directly connected. I'm a founding member of BIIG and work closely with John, Tali, and the broader community in helping establish and grow the initiative. As you may already know from John's background and track record, this represents a tremendous opportunity for us to continue attracting top talent from across sectors in Israel to Massachusetts—rather than seeing them drawn to other competing states and cities.

If you haven't already had the chance, it would be great for you to connect with John and Tali directly. John has heard me speak about you and your leadership many times and how you have been instrumental in our work in establishing ARC Boston.

Best,
Yonatan

Dear Yonatan --- allow me to connect you with my contact from the Fukuoka Prefecture, Masaki Nakatsuchi, and Brandon Possin, CEO of Fukuoka-based innovation advisory firm, Merito.

Masaki-san is a dear friend who is a manager of the Start Up Support Division at the Fukuoka Prefecture. He has helped bring several delegations from Fukuoka to Massachusetts, including one led Fukuoka Governor Hattori.

I thought it would be good for them to learn about Sheba ARC and the ARC Boston Launchpad – I think an exchange of best practices and operational support efforts could be beneficial to both.

I know you may have limited availability tomorrow – so perhaps a meeting in the morning (either virtually or in-person) can work.

Many thanks,

Health care startup incubator launches in Boston

ARC Landing Boston is an offshoot of Sheba Medical Center based in Israel

- Alison Kuznitz

Gov. Maura Healey celebrates the future launch of Israeli-based Sheba Medical Center's ARC Accelerator in Greater Boston during a State House press conference on May 6, 2025. She's joined Dr. Yitshak Kreiss, right, director general of Sheba.

Alison Kuznitz/SHNS

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, March 6, 2026.....A health care startup incubator tied to an Israeli hospital system launched its program in downtown Boston this week.

ARC Landing Boston, an offshoot of Sheba Medical Center located outside Tel Aviv, is now home to six startups, a spokesperson for the accelerator said. A ribbon-cutting ceremony with Gov. Maura Healey had been planned for Tuesday, but the event was canceled due to the conflict in the Middle East, the spokesperson said.

The accelerator will be helmed by Dr. Yonatan Keschner, an emergency medicine physician at Mass General Brigham (MGB) and a faculty member at Harvard Medical School. He's also led a health tech hub at MGB that guides international companies into the U.S. market, according to his LinkedIn.

"The launch of ARC Landing Boston marks the start of a new era of medical innovation," Keschner said. "Our first cohort of startups are developing technologies that will address some of the greatest medical challenges and reinvent the future of healthcare. Leveraging Sheba's global platform and Massachusetts's robust ecosystem of healthcare institutions will ensure our cohort can pioneer and scale truly innovative technologies."

At a State House press conference last May, Healey stood beside Sheba leaders and expressed excitement that the hospital had selected Massachusetts for its first United States-based accelerator. ARC — which stands for accelerate, redesign, collaborate — has a global network that's active in 12 countries. The Boston accelerator will help startups enter the U.S. market and support local economic growth, the spokesperson said.

The state has not provided any financial support for ARC Landing Boston, said Margaret Quackenbush, spokesperson for the Executive Office of Economic Development. The six startups have collectively raised nearly $85 million and have started hiring locally, the accelerator spokesperson said.

The companies include XEOS that's modernizing cancer surgery with real-time molecular imaging; UltraSight, which uses AI-based software to boost the accessibility of high-quality cardiac ultrasounds; and FeelBetter, an AI-powered medication management platform. There's also Modulight that's developing new therapies for neurological disorders; custoMED, which uses AI to produce personalized surgical guides; and Nuri Braintech that's working on a new approach to treat post-traumatic stress disorder.

The accelerator intends to bring additional startups to Boston, the spokesperson said. ARC Landing Boston offers opportunities for startups to collaborate with academic and community hospital systems, academic institutions and industry partners. Startups also receive support for U.S. market entry and connection to the state's venture community.

Dr. Yitzhak Kreiss, director general of Sheba, said last year that the accelerator can help counter escalating antisemitism.

"Antisemitism is eliminated by doing things together," Kreiss had said. "We believe that when the people of the commonwealth will see the innovation coming through, the companies, the economic growth, the good things that we can do, the science that we can do together, that's a very effective way to cope with that."

Protesters held a "die-in" outside the State House in December, calling on the state to break ties with Sheba. Organizers said Sheba, the largest hospital in the Middle East, was "deeply implicated in the ongoing genocide in Gaza."

The state's health care startup landscape also got a boost from the federal government this week. The Advanced Research Projects Agency for Health announced investments for research teams in Boston and other U.S. cities to pursue lymphatic interventions and health monitors that can be placed in patients' tear ducts.

Yes, we would love that—we can do a review of our programming and the ecosystem for your new companies anytime as well, and maybe put together a more tailored document that lays out what's most relevant to them based on their areas of focus.

No rush on that, since we're probably not aiming for the March 31 tax incentive deadline, but happy to meet whenever is convenient for you or once that first cohort gets onboarded. Feel free to share some times that might work if you'd like, we can do virtual, come to Boston/Cambridge, or host you at our office in Waltham. Happy to help any way we can!

Hi Beth,

We have reserved a private conference room – “Oak Ridge” - in our office space where the event will be held.

As of now, we can plan for a 1:1 meeting, although I or others from my team may join. Is it ok to get back to you on that?

I will go ahead and register Mike Dandorph for our opening ceremony event to ensure he has a badge and can easily get upstairs through our registration table in the lobby – we will have security for this event. Doors open 130PM, ceremony 2-3PM, but he can come in anytime.

The event will be held at our office: 60 State Street, Suite 1400.

Please let us know if 330PM may work instead of 4PM.

I know we already extended an invitation to you before, but you are more than welcome to attend our event as well!

Best,

Hi Beth,

It was a pleasure speaking with you yesterday.

I wanted to confirm that I spoke with Hilla (cc'd), Prof Kreiss's EA, and March 3rd 4-430P should work. However, Prof Kreiss does have an 8PM flight back home and will need to leave right after to the airport. If possible, it would be better to do 330-4P.

Thank you!

Yonatan

Hi Beth,

Thank you for the update!

Because our March 3 opening ceremony begins at 1:30 PM, with remarks from the Governor, Prof. Kreiss, and others scheduled from approximately 2:00–3:00 PM, it will likely be difficult to hold a meeting 3:00 PM meeting with Prof. Kreiss outside our office. We would, however, be delighted to have Mike Dandorph attend the ceremony, and we can reserve a private conference room afterward so they can meet following the ribbon-cutting (around 3:00 PM).

On March 2, Prof. Kreiss is available either between 8:00–9:15 AM or between 12:00–4:00 PM (I'll just confirm once I know which time you prefer).

We also had the opportunity to meet with Scott Simone yesterday, which was great — he will be attending the opening ceremony as well.

If you ever need to get in touch with me, call/text any time: 516-241-9177

Have a great weekend.

Thank you very much, Jeevan, for the introduction. I'm also pleased to include our COO, Dolev Melamed, on this thread.

We would welcome the opportunity to find time to meet and discuss ARC Landing Boston and potential avenues for collaboration. ARC Landing Boston serves as a U.S. soft-landing platform for ARC's international healthtech startups, providing tailored support as they enter and scale within the U.S. healthcare, research, and innovation ecosystem. Through strategic partnerships and hands-on programming, we connect global founders with clinical, academic, industry, and investment leaders across Massachusetts and beyond, supporting them along their commercialization pathway.

I also wanted to share that Prof. Kreiss, CEO of Sheba Medical Center, will be in Boston for our inaugural ARC Landing Boston ceremony on March 3rd. We would be honored to invite you, Mike, to join us for this event, which will include Governor Healey and Secretary Eric Paley as our guests of honor.

In addition, if possible, we would greatly appreciate the opportunity to schedule a meeting with Michael Dandorph and Prof. Kreiss on March 2nd (or March 3rd morning) if possible.

Looking forward to connecting, and thank you again.

Dear Ambassador Vanden Bulcke and Brice,

It is a pleasure to connect — and thank you, Jeevan, for the kind introduction and for also sharing the press release in May about ARC.

I am the CEO of ARC Landing Boston, the U.S. accelerator for the global ARC innovation network. ARC was founded in 2019 at Sheba Medical Center to transform healthcare and economic growth through healthcare innovation and collaboration and has grown into a worldwide ecosystem of leading health systems, industry partners, and more than 130 startups - including now a site in Ghent with Maria Middelaes Hospital. I've also cc'd Prof Eyal Zimlichman, who is Executive Director and Founder of ARC, and CIO, CTO, and Chief AI Officer at Sheba Medical Center.

Our Boston hub serves as a soft-landing platform for ARC companies expanding into the U.S. market and is part of a broader global network that includes ARC Ghent:

<https://invest.flandersinvestmentandtrade.com/en/arc-innovation-hub-ghent>

We are proud that our inaugural cohort will include XEOS from Belgium, through ARC Ghent network at Maria Middelaes Hospital.

We would be honored to invite you to our official opening ceremony on March 3rd at 130PM, where Governor Maura Healey and Secretary of Economic Development Eric Paley will be joining us, as well as other local and visiting executive leaders from top tier healthcare systems and industry partners – including executives from Maria Middelaers Hospital.

We look forward to deepening our collaboration with Belgium and welcoming additional ARC Ghent healthtech companies to Boston in the years ahead.

On a personal note, although I was born and raised in New York before later moving to Boston, I am a Belgian citizen through my mother. Growing up, I spent most of my summers at my grandparent's home in Zingem, so this connection is especially meaningful to me.

Warm regards,

Yonatan

Hi –

I just took a first pass at the Press Release document – looks great - and made a few edits using track changes mostly in the list of resources/services we are focusing on. I saved the file with my initials and time saved (2PM) to help with version control.

I did not test all of the hyperlinks, but I assume they've been tested/point to the correct web addresses.

Thank you again and as always call me with anything urgent for quickest response: 516-241-9177

Hi Jeevan!

Following up briefly after this morning's call. Please see attached for a draft of our press release. We would love to include a quote from the Governor.

Additionally, would it be possible to share any topline numbers or information you all are tracking re: local economic impact from the accelerator? It would be great to include this in the press release and mention ahead of time under embargo to reporters to help generate interest.

Thank you so much and looking forward to a great event!

Best,
Ollie

Subject: MEC's 16th Annual Export Expo: February 26 - 27, 2026
Date: Tuesday, February 17, 2026 10:04:00 AM

Dear colleagues, on behalf of the Massachusetts Export Center, please see below registration information for their annual Export Expo that brings together resources, training, and information for the global trade community - Feb. 26-27, 2026 (virtual).

The Massachusetts Export Center's Export Expo provides a forum for exporters to connect with the wide range of export resources available in Massachusetts while learning about issues that impact their day-to-day operations.

The Export Expo is a virtual event that will include an exhibit area featuring government, non-profit and private sector service providers serving the export community. The Export Expo will feature a lineup of workshops, panel discussions, and special addresses on a wide variety of export-related topics.

This year's Export Expo will focus on current and imminent developments in our international trade environment, including the impact of the geopolitical landscape, policy, regulation, and enforcement on global trade operations. Critical issues such as export control and economic sanctions policy, the implementation of widespread tariffs, and escalating regulatory enforcement will be addressed, with a focus on helping companies to remain nimble while navigating and responding to a dynamic and increasingly complex global trade environment.

Yonatan Good Morning...

As I did last year, I work hand-in-hand with Karissa Hand, head of the Governor's PR/media team...

I was trying to get a video meeting together for Wednesday as well, so it might be prudent for ALL of us to be on ONE call, where Karissa and I map out the publicity.

Tomorrow at 9AM Eastern could work for me...

Hi Jeevan,

It was nice catching up with you yesterday. As mentioned, we are planning an Oncology Delegation from Israel, and here are draft objective and goal of the delegation:

Date & Time

February 25 & 26, 2026 in Boston, MA

Objective of the Oncology Delegation:

The Israel's Oncology Delegation aims to foster strategic partnership with leading US healthcare institutions, investors, and industry stakeholders. Through targeted meetings and engagements, the delegation will showcase Israel's cutting edge oncology innovations across diagnostics, therapeutics, and digital health. The program will also focus on exploring US market entry and collaboration opportunities, while facilitating a meaningful exchange of insights and best practices to advance cancer research, clinical care, and patient outcomes.

Purpose of the visit:

- Market Access and Partnerships
- Connect with U.S. hospital systems and decision-makers
- Explore opportunities for pilots, proof of concept, clinical trial, validation studies, joint development, vendor collaboration, and investment or strategic partnerships
- Understanding Hospital Needs
- Gain insights directly from clinicians, administrators, and relevant professionals about unmet needs and adoption barriers
- Align product development with U.S. healthcare workflows and regulatory requirements
- Networking & Relationship Building
- Build connections to support future collaborations, partnerships, and investment
- Brand & Credibility
- Receive feedback to strengthen value proposition
- Establish visibility and legitimacy in the U.S. market

Sample Agenda (Appx 90 minutes)

1. Welcome & Host Introduction (5-10 minutes)
 - Overview of the hospital/health system
 - Innovation strategy, partnership process
2. Delegation Introduction (2 minutes)
 - Brief remarks from the Israel Economic Mission
3. Startup Pitches (main session: 10-12 minutes per startup)
 - Each startup presents for 5 minutes, followed by Q&A
4. Q&A with Stakeholders (10 minutes)
 - Engage with clinicians, innovation leaders, and commercialization teams

5. Closing & Networking (10-20 minutes)

Wishlist host, visits, and pitch:

- Dana-Farber Cancer Institute
- Mass General Brigham Cancer Institute
- Massachusetts General Hospital
- Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
- Cancer Center at Boston Medical Center
- Tufts Medical Center
- Investors

Dear Jeevan,

It is a pleasure to hear from you, and I hope your 2026 is off to an excellent start.

Thank you for reaching out and for facilitating this introduction to Consul General Sharoni. As it happens, our team has already begun coordinating with the Israel Economic Mission to the East Coast to arrange a visit to Dana-Farber for this startup delegation. We are very much looking forward to the exchange of ideas.

Dear Consul General Sharoni,

We would be delighted to connect with you and your team to discuss the upcoming February visit, while also taking the opportunity to review ongoing collaborations between Dana-Farber and Israeli institutions and explore potential future initiatives.

I will follow up with a separate email shortly to coordinate a time for us to speak further.

Hi Eric,

I wanted to introduce you to Jeevan Ramapriya. Jeevan is the Executive Director of the Massachusetts Office of International Trade and Investment, and over the past two years we've worked closely together on several initiatives. He's become both a close colleague and a friend, and I think the two of you will really enjoy getting to know one another.

Best,
Yonatan

Dear Jeevan,

I hope this message finds you well and that you're having a great start to the new year!

I wanted to reach out following your wonderful speech at the inauguration of our new offices—the statistics you shared regarding bilateral trade between Israel and Massachusetts were incredibly insightful and really helped underscore the strength of our economic partnership.

I'm writing to see if you might be able to share any data you have on hand about Israel-Massachusetts trade and economic impact, whether the figures from your remarks or any other related materials.

I'm grateful for any insights you can offer.

Thank you again for your participation in our inauguration and for your continued support of the Israel-Massachusetts relationship.

Respectfully,

Ted Wolf
